TUESDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 20.

To ran Public After the 1st of July, 1851, the estage on the Daily American Telegraph (and as yet we one no other) will be, per quarter in advance, as follows: Fifty miles or under, 25 cents; over fifty and not over three hundred, 50 cents; over three hundred and not exceeding one thousand, 75 cents, &c. Any person wishing to be served for three months after the above date need only pay his quarter's postage, and send us a gold dollar and a silver quarter in a small letter—postage paid, of Foreign News .- We vesterday gave under our telegraphic head the leading items of the news brought by the steamer Franklin, which arrived at New York yesterday morning, in twelve days from Southampton. The following and prosperous, May they long continue so. is all we deem it necessary to add of the accounts since received:

"At a meeting of the Council of Chairmen of the Metropolitan Commission, presided over by their noble President, it was unanimously resolved to invite the foreign Commissioners to an entertainment. The invitation will be extended to the foreign Ambassadors and Minis ters, and the principal of the Royal Commission and Executive. The banquet will be upon a scale of great splendor, and fully maintain the national character for hospitality.'

This will be a very select banquet, and the doubt enjoy it. A banquet at the world's industrial display, to which the scientific, laboring, and industrious people are not to be invited, should be very private; it might be enjoyed all account of it is only suggestive to the learned. things of which they had better not at present be reminded.

"It is stated in some of the German journals, hostile to the Austrian movements, that fresh symptoms of agitation are perceptible in Hungary. A letter from Vienna states that the agitation is confined to the question of the tobacco monopolies, which encounters much oppo-sition, but otherwise the suppressing of the late revolt has produced a feeling of attachment to the Austrian Government on the part of the peasantry, as it has relieved them from the tyranny and exactions of the Hungarian nobles, many of whom had taken part in the insurrection only in the hope of emancipating them-selves from the control of Austria, which was beginning to espouse the cause of the productive classes

THE READING-ROOM. -- We notice a new arrangement of the reading-room at the Smithsonian Institution. The screen which cut off the private room of the librarian, and occupied about one-half of the room, has been removed, so that all but a small portion in two corners is thrown open to the public. There is not a more delightful place in the city in which to spend an hour. The tables are covered with most of the periodicals of this country, and many of those of England, and the library con- morning. She is to proceed to Norfolk, and tains food for the intellect in rich profusion.

THE LATE WARM WEATHER .- A good deal of speculation prevailed last week in regard to the hot weather. Wagers were laid that certain days were hotter than others; and that the thermometer did not range any higher the Last evening the house was as full as it could whole of last summer than it was on last Tuesday. From the register at the Smithsonian Institution we take the record of the air thermometer at two o'clock, each day, as follows: Sunday, 11th, 86.5; Monday, 86.5; Tuesday, 91.; Wednesday, 75.; Thursday, 70.2; Friday, 74.; Saturday, 80.; Sunday, 76.5.

RESIGNED .- Mr. Lewis R. Hamersly, of this city, has resigned his clerkship in the War Department, and has taken charge of the Lancaster (Pa.) Union and Tribune, a Whig paper.

GUARD-CHAIN .- Mr. A. W. Russell, of Lancaster, Pa., has a guard-chain composed of lumps of gold, in their virgin state, as found in valued at $350.

"We are almost tired of making apologies, ut the pressure of advertisers upon us this but the pressure of advertisers upon us this morning renders it indispensable that most of our usual reading matter should be laid over. The advertisement from the Navy Department, occupying over seven columns on our first page, the list of advertised letters, and the Council proceedings, had all to go in this morning's paper, to the exclusion of other matter."

[Louisville Courier, May 16. We rejoice to hear it, friends of the Courier but can indulge in no such pleasant complainings ourselves. We have the LARGEST CIRCU-LATION in this city of any daily paper published here, and the Telegraph is read by every body. But we have not too many advertisements. We do no not envy those who have; we rejoice at their good fortune. The Intelligencer, the Union, and Republic are all faithful, and able, We, however, hope for nothing and fear nothing from the sources whence much of their patron age flows; but, talking TO AND FOR THE PEOPLE, are content with the rays of sunshine and refreshing dews that Heaven sends us. Yet, of this one thing we are very certain, namelythat we shall work out our editorial salvation without fear or trembling. Our professional men, mechanics, manufacturers, and merchants are finding us out, and the more intelligent. enterprising, and whole-souled among them are calling upon us kindly, as honey-bees visit sumnoble President and his noble guests will no mer's choicest flowers-and still they come, and still are welcome; but, as the boys say, "we don't ask no odds." We have worked our cano up and over the first of the rapids we have had to encounter, and can get over the rest by bearthe better for this; and the publication of any ing a firm hand and keeping courage. By-andbye, we shall get to the fountain-head of prosingenious, and laboring portion of humanity, of perity, to wit, the popular favor; and then our course will lie in the safe and pleasant channel of public utility-and pecuniary advantage also.

In the mean time let us say a word or two to our business men. Many of you said we ought to publish a one-cent paper. We cannot do that; but if you will get a good person to try it well, we will give him a chance. We will lease him our establishment long enough to make the experiment in a satisfactory manner and work for him on cheap terms, if he wishes it. But we cannot publish a one-cent paper in Washington-at present.

Some of you say you do not care for a Wash ington two-cent paper, because you can get a first-rate penny paper from abroad. So you can, too. So can your customers, many of whom are induced, by the perusal of such the newspapers of Europe; and certain of the papers, to send abroad for the little purchases letters which follow its publication, (not all, for they have to make. Thousands upon thousands many of them are mere patchwork from the of dollars leave this city in gentlemen's pockets newspapers,) generally give the lie to all the and ladies' reticules, to go shopping in Baltistatements of political matters we receive. When thus completed, it will contain over sixteen hundred pages. It is a merit in a publisher to exceed the promises contained in his prospectus, and it should be appreciated. As the postage on books published in numbers will, under the new law, be considerably increased, it is important that orders by mail should be immediately forwarded."

> NAVAL .- We learn that the U. S. Steame Legare is to sail from our navy yard on Friday thence to her summer's station in Chesapeake

> THE CARNCROSS FAMILY .- To-night, we are told, is the last opportunity our friends will have of listening to these charming minstrels. be, and the ladies excelled even their former efforts. Kaleb and Joe "guess there will be a right smart people in to-night." They appear in Fredericksburg to-morrow evening.

CIRCUS.-The bills tell us, that on the 3d, 4th, 5th, and 6th of June, the city will be enlivened by some of the most elastic tumblers that ever walked on their heads, or put their feet where nature did not design them to go; and so, we suppose, many of our young folks will put theirs where their mas and pas do not wish them to go-to the tan-covered

THE ADELPHI.-We perceive that this place the mines of California—the lumps weighing of amusement is to be opened on Thursday from one to three and four ounces each. It is night, and that an attractive bill will be presented.

POLICE REPORTS .- It is the opinion of many that the publication of these has a salutary restraining influence. We think so ourselves. The duty is by no means agreeable; but, as we have remarked, it is sufficient for us to know that it is a duty.

A very respectable gentleman has underta ken to lecture us for recently giving the names of some persons who, he says, are "most respectably connected." We do not care a penny for that, (if they forget it!) nor do the laws. When we published the names of poor friendless Tom Smith and Bill Green, in spite of their entreaties, we did not bargain with ourselves that we would throw a veil over the name and shame of those who have friends-and we will not do it. They who do not approve this course may try any remedy of which they hink best; and the respectable gentleman who nas proffered us his counsels may rest assured that neither wealth nor influence shall make him an exception if he makes one of himself. We have a double duty devolving upon us-one o guard the public weal, and the other to look to our individual interest. When we prove faithless to the first, we hope the latter may suffer.

Some few persons who desire to screen, in tead of correct, the evil courses of their youth are boasting of the injury they can do us in our business, and one gentleman has actually cut off his two cents a day because his brother's name has appeared in print. We have no obection to this; and if we have any more "pa trons" who wish to make it a sine qua non that we shall be guided by their notions, the sooner they desert us the better. We have no idea of pursuing a cringing, temporizing course, nor have we yet met with any one whose smiles or frowns can supply us with a motive for doing that of which we do not happen to think favor-

There is a great deal of gammoning in this nundane world of ours; but having seen a good deal of this particular species, we can dispense with it and all the dispensers of it.

THE RECENT HOMICIDE.-In the case of Jas H. Powell, charged with killing John Mariner, otherwise called John Merinder, by a blow, on the 8th of May, the death taking place on the 16th May, was heard to-day in the court-room before Judge Crawford, upon habeas corpus Messrs. Carlisle, McKim, and C. S. Wallach, appeared for the prisoner; Mr. Fendall for the United States. The witnesses detailed the same evidence, a statement of which has already appeared in this paper. His honor decided that the killing was clearly no murder, but whatever might be his own opinion, he considered that the point whether the violence by the prisoner was more than necessary to overcome the resistance by the deceased was properly the province of a jury to decide. He therefore this voluntary manifestation of their regard. held the accused to bail in the sum of three thousand dollars: Dr. Robert J. Powell, of this city, an uncle of the prisoner, became the bail, and the prisoner was released.

Double Arrest .- Officer Thomas E. Wiliams, of this city, started on Saturday mornng last in pursuit of William Cameron, of New from William Voss, jeweller, of this city, under false pretences; and while in the cars, between this city and the Relay House, he received information that a man in the cars was suspected of being a horse-thief, having sold a valuable mare in this city for one-fourth of her value. Williams watched the man, and, while the cars tarried at the Relay House, the bird attempted to fly, but was promptly informed by the officer that he must go to Baltimore with him, to answer the charge of horse-stealing. Williams handed his prisoner, who gave his name as John Tippett, to an officer in Baltimore, to convey to brought him to this city on Sunday night, when he was committed to jail by Captain Goddard. The owner of the mare stolen, who it is thought lives in Warrenton, Va., can get information of her by calling on Mr. Williams, at the Third District police office. Mr. W. certainly deserves the highest praise for his keen-sightedness and official tact in making this double arrest and securing both his prisoners.

MISS GORDON'S MINIATURE PORTRAITS .- We have heretofore had occasion to call attention to the very beautiful likeness, painted by this highly talented lady, of Mrs. General Macombe. We have since seen other specimens of her skill of equal merit. A miniature of the Rev. Orville Dewey, taken six years ago, is very excellent; but one of Miss ----, a young lady of this city, is truly exquisite. Ease, repose, and grace, a good likeness, and agreeable tout enemble, are so manifest in these paintings, that they cannot be viewed without emotions of pleasure.

Miss G. is residing at Mrs. Wallingford's, on Four-and-a-half street, but her stay in this city. we are sorry to hear, is now limited to a brief

Specimens of her work may be seen at Whitehurst's Daguerrean gallery, and at Taylor and Maury's bookstore.

BLACKWOOD, for May, (Leonard Scott & Co.'s reprint,) has been presented to us by Taylor & Maury. It is an interesting number. American poets are treated with severity, yet with more candor and liberality than they have been wont to receive from British critics.

H. B. McElfresh makes and sells Mansion House Ice Cream, such as is delightful to thaw upon one's tongue, even in a cottage.

JOHN B. KIBBEY has a variety of good things for sale, but his lemon sugar is said to be excellent for lemonade, provided you do not turn spirits into it, and thus turn it into punch. Though we do not see any harm in this, unless you should then turn it down your throat.

Opp-Fellows' Hall .- The play-going people are to have a treat of Ethiopian characteristics next week, from the New Orleans Opera Troupe.

CITY WATCH-HOUSE. - Robert Johnson, an Englishman and a professional beggar, was this morning provided with board and ledgings, at the public expense, for the next thirty days.

NEW YORK, May 18 .- The third engineer of his head caught in the machinery yesterday, crushing it awfully, causing instant death.

GEORGETOWN AND ITS AFFAIRS.

GEORGETOWN, May 20-12 m. I was glad to learn this morning that the two ersons who were injured while blasting rock trade. Small sales Rio coffee at 9@9 3/c. Small sales at Oak Hill Cemetery are fast recovering from their wounds.

The affairs of our Corporation have not for nany years been in so healthy a condition. Its tock is worth a premium of from three to five per cent., and none in the market at those rices; and with the skilful planning of Mayor ddison, the wise counsels of the legislative lepartments, and the judicious financiering of lajor Jewell, together with the experience of that faithful old servant, Mr. Mountz, and the Sinking Fund, we are destined soon to be reeased from our Corporation debt.

The last steamer's news has increased confi ence among the holders of flour and grain. Wood is selling readily from boats at $4 for k, and $3@$31 for pine, and in demand. Our market this morning was literally crowded with fine meats, fresh vegetables, fresh butter, eggs, strawberries, &c.; all of which went off brisk at moderate prices.

Mr. KENNEDY, the Superintendent of the Census, we understand, will depart from this city, on his European tour, on Friday next. The clerks connected with the Census bureau, some eighty we believe in number, have unanimously addressed to him a letter of respect, in which they thank him for the courtesy and kindness they have received at his hands, and express their earnest wishes for his welfare and enfe return.

Mr. Kennedy has replied to this in a very handsome and feeling note, in which he expresses the gratification he feels in the pleasant remembrance he shall bear with him of the many gentlemen who have so kindly offered

CENTRE MARKET .- Purchasers turned out in great numbers this morning. Vegetables, and all other of spring's products, were brought in plentifully. Prices, which have been quite high for some weeks, fell several grades. Green peas were sold at from 121 to 25 cents per peck; strawberries, 16 to 31 cents per quart; eggs, Jersey, who was charged with obtaining jewelry 121 cents per dozen; good butter at 25 cents

A counterfeit gold dollar, well calculated to deceive, is thus described in the Philadelphia Ledger: It feels greasy to the touch, is rather thicker than the genuine, is of lighter color, and has a dull, leaden ring. The wording, "United States of America," and the word "dollar," are dull, and have not the clear, sharp appearance of those of the genuine.

RELIGIOUS EXCITEMENT IN GREAT BRITAIN. Perhaps this is a misnomer, but so the controversy is called-a religious excitement. And what is it about? The Dublin correspondent ing brief questions:

"Who caused the commotion wherewith the British nation is agitated? Cardinal Wiseman, who instigated the Pope to organize the hierarchy, and the Pope who issued his rescript for that purpose, and the bishops who accepted sees upon the Pope's nomination, and who assumed jurisdiction and published pastorals accordingly? Or Lord John Russell, who, in his letter to the Bishop of Durham, denounced this as a usurpation of the Queen's rights, and an aggression upon the nation's freedom, and who excited the English people to resist it, and the Protestant population who lifted up their voice against it 'as the sound of many waters,' and the ministry who introduced, and the House of Commons that sanctioned, a bill for annulling

Boston, May 19 .- Legislative Affairs -- Democratic Convention.—The Legislature, to-day, rejected the bill abolishing capital punishment by seventy-five majority. The proposition for removing the seat of government to Worcester has passed to a third reading.

The convention of the Democrats of the sec ond Congressional district was held at Salem to-day. Two hundred delegates were in attendance, and resolutions in favor of a distinct or ganization in opposition to the Free-soilers were unanimously passed. H. J. Brown, of Salem, was then nominated as their candidate

New ORLEANS, May 15 .- The steamer Fanny arrived at this port to-day, with Texas papers to the 10th. Indian troubles still continue. J. H. WHITEHURST has extended the field of his optypist in the country. His Galleries may be found on Pennsylvania avenue, between 4½ and 6th streets; No.
207 Baltimore street, Baltimore; corner Broadway and
Leonard street, New York; No. 77 Main street, Richmond; Sycamore street, Petersburg; Main street, Norfolk; and Main street, Lynchburg, Virginia.

His beautiful and highly finished electro-Daguerreotypes are an extraordinary improvement, insuring faithful and highly finished likenesses in a few seconds.

J. H. W. calls the attention of the public generally to his elegantly furnished Gallery over Lane and Tucker's new store, where a free exhibition of pictures will be given.

Notwithstanding the unusual competition in Daguerre-otypes at the recent Fair of the Maryland Institute, he was awarded the first medal by the judges. Likenesses of every description copied, and post-mortem cases attended to.
